BAHI THERAPY is Hue Light's groundbreaking Longevity Care System. Designed to support your wellness, BAHI Therapy leverages the synergistic effects of red light therapy, hydrogen inhalation therapy, hyperbaric oxygen therapy, and vibration therapy to boost health at the cellular level..

Stress is the underlying cause of many illnesses like:

- Appetite loss • Hormonal imbalance • Clogged blood vessels • Increased tensions
- Chronic fatigue • Weakened immunity

Research suggests that stress management can play a role in supporting overall wellness. At Hue Light USA, we believe in the power of holistic wellness. Our BAHI Therapy is designed to complement your lifestyle by promoting relaxation and balance. While BAHI Therapy aims to support general well-being, it's one of many steps you can take towards nurturing your body's natural resilience.

BAHI Therapy promotes balance, a key to holistic wellness. By combining photobiomodulation, hydrogen inhalation, vibration therapy, and hyperbaric oxygen therapy, the BAHI Therapy protocol seeks to support the body's natural healing systems.

BAHI Therapy consists of:

Phase 1

Sonix Sonicwave Vibration Therapy

Just 10 minutes of sonicwave vibration equates to 1 hour of aerobic exercise. Phase 1 of BAHI Therapy uses vibration therapy to awaken the red blood cells, breaking up clumps of these cells and separating them. This provides greater blood cell membrane exposure for red light therapy in Phase 2. Providing a gentle, workout-like experience, Sonix vibration therapy increases circulation in the blood and lymph and maximizes microcapillary activity to support balance and overall wellness.

Phase 2

Whole-Body PBM + Molecular Hydrogen Inhalation

Phase 2 of BAHI Therapy combines photobiomodulation (light therapy) and molecular hydrogen inhalation. Photobiomodulation directs light energy, including green, red, infrared, and near-infrared wavelengths, at the body. This light energy reaches the cells, activating the cell's production of ATP (adenosine triphosphate), an important energy source for the cells.

Molecular hydrogen inhalation leverages the antioxidant and anti-inflammatory properties of hydrogen gas. When inhaled, molecular hydrogen has a natural deoxidizing effect and neutralizes free radicals. As a result, molecular hydrogen inhalation supports the body's natural defenses against oxidative stress.

When combined, hydrogen inhalation and photobiomodulation energize and deoxidize the cells, providing a boost to wellness.

Phase 3

Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy

Phase 3 of BAHI Therapy utilizes HyperBaric Oxygen Therapy. Cleared by the FDA for 13 disorders, HBOT saturates the body with oxygen, which is one of the most important elements in wellness. This boost of oxygen supports a variety of natural healing processes and maximizes the amount of available oxygen in the body.
